

353 → 349 BC

the Mausoleum at HALICARNASSUS

353 BC

---

Mausoleum of HALICARNASSUS

Built in honor of King Mausolus, a ruler of Ancient Caria.

353BC

Peace between Rome and Caere

353BC

HALICARNASSUS MAUSOLEUM

Great marble mausoleum built in Greece 353BC to house tomb of King called mausoleos.

353 BC

1912 Dates J-BK

A Mausoleum at Halicarnassus
this tomb was erected in 353 BC.
by Queen ARTEMISIA in honor of her husband MAUSOLUS
It was the work of sculptors
SCOPAS, BRYAXIS, LEOCHARES and TIMOTHEUS. Built of white marble
1622 - Knights of St. John pillaged it

353 BC

7 W miles

Mausoleum at Halicarnassus (Bodrum) Funerary monument was raised by Queen Artemisia and King MAUSOLUS of Caria as a memorial to themselves.
He died in 353 BC but work must certainly have begun on it in his lifetime

Substantial pilared temple is 98 ft square
Numerous pcs of sculpture survive believed to represent Artemisia and Mausolus

353BC

Rome offered to the population of CAERE (an Etruscan city) participation in their own civil rights.

This became a model for subsequent enfranchisements and was first step towards that extension of Rome citizenship to people not of Roman descent